

Operation Soteria

From: Euan Wallace (DHHS) [REDACTED]
To: Melissa Skilbeck (DHHS) [REDACTED]
Date: Fri, 01 May 2020 10:41:46 +1000

Melissa

We are working through reviews of some key incidents in the hotels. The reviews are throwing up a number of issues, not wholly unexpectedly, including the fundamental question regarding "overall responsibility". In essence, who is responsible for the quarantined detainees. there is not a consensus on this and lack of consensus/clarity fundamentally undermines governance and decisions.

The structure suggests that the Accommodation Commander reporting to State Controller is responsible. However, there is also an opinion that PH is ultimately responsible because the passengers are detained under their direction.

May I seek your advice?

euan

Professor Euan M Wallace AM
CEO, Safer Care Victoria
Department of Health and Human Services
Level 3, 50 Lonsdale Street
Melbourne 3000

T [REDACTED] | M [REDACTED]
E [REDACTED]
W safercare.vic.gov.au

Executive Assistant [REDACTED]

T [REDACTED] | E [REDACTED]

This Outlook email and/or PDF and Microsoft Office 365 Word, Excel and PowerPoint attached documents we share may include 'protective markings'. These indicate the sensitivity of our information. They align with the Victorian Protective Data Security Standards (VPDSS), which is managed by Office of the Victorian Information Commissioner. Read more about protective markings when you 'Do business with us' on www.dhhs.vic.gov.au/doing-business-us. Recipients outside of the department and staff who are not protective markings users do not need to do anything further. Continue to protect your information as usual.